

The Graduate Program in Environmental Science, Policy & Management

University of California, Berkeley

I. Program

Academic Support

1 Faculty Member : 3.65 Students
Time to degree: 5-6 years on average.
21-29 degrees awarded annually.

Financial Support

75% of students have full financial support
100% of students receive a 3-year package of full financial support
40% of students receive financial support as research assistants or with fellowships
35% of students receive financial support as teaching assistants. No classes offered in the department are taught exclusively by graduate students.
100% of students have health insurance.

II. Students

Student Body

224 total graduate students
Median GRE Scores: 600 verbal,¹ 670 quantitative 104 men, 120 women
27 international students

III. Faculty

Areas of Study

Ecosystem stewardship
Environmental governance
Global change
Organisms and biodiversity
Science, technology, and environment

Faculty Statistics

59 Total Graduate Program Faculty
51 Full Professors
8 Assistant Professors
7 Associate Professor
7 Adjunct Professors
2 Affiliated Professors
2 Active Emeriti
15 Cooperative Extension Specialists
30% of faculty are women
14% of faculty belong to an ethnic minority

Federal Support

The total dollar value of grants awarded to ESPM faculty for the 2005-2006 fiscal year was $15.4 million.

¹ The verbal score is lower due to the large number of non-native English speakers in the program.

Selected Influential Faculty Members

Jill Banfield: 4,482 total citations to her papers
John Casida: 13,058 total citations
Carolyn Merchant: 10 books, 4 editions, 48 citations
Vince Resh: 2,729 total citations
Gordon Sposito: 8,617 total citations

Selected Faculty Awards

1 Wolf Prize
2 MacArthur Fellows
5 Guggenheim Fellows
5 Fulbright Fellows

Selected Faculty Associations

4 National Academy of Science Members
2 American Academy of Arts and Science Members
2 American Association for the Advancement of Science Members
1 UK Royal Society Fellow
1 European Academy of Sciences Member